What is SBAR?

A Communication Technique for Today's Healthcare Professional

Situation Background Assessment Recommendation (SBAR) is a standardized way of communicating. It promotes patient safety because it helps individuals communicate with each other with a shared set of expectations. Staff and physicians can use SBAR to share patient information in a concise and structured format. It improves efficiency and accuracy.

SBAR stands for:

- Situation
- Background
- Assessment
- Recommendation

Originally developed by the US Navy as a communication technique that could be used on nuclear submarines, Safer Healthcare introduced SBAR into healthcare settings in the late 1990s. Since that time, SBAR has been adopted by hospitals and care facilities around the world as a simple but effective way to standardize communication between care givers.

We all have different styles of communicating that vary by culture, gender, language, profession, and so on. For example, nurses are trained to be narrative (for example, nursing care plans) and doctors are trained to summarize ("just the facts, please"). SBAR makes it easier for people to convey important information without digressing, omitting key information, or worrying about how someone might react. All employees should use SBAR to improve team communication.

SBAR	Ask	SBAR Example
Situation	What is happening now?	RN: "Dr. Preston, this is Suzanne Graham. I'm an RN at Professional Home Health Care, and I'm calling about Mrs. Jane Smith, DOB 1/3/1927.
Background	What relevant factors led up to this event?	RN: "Mrs. Smith recently came home from the hospital after a 4-day stay for exacerbation of her COPD. However, at this time Mrs. Smith is presenting with +1-2 pitting edema of both legs below mid-shin and I noted scattered crackles at bilateral lung bases, neither of which were there on my last visit 2 days ago. Her BP is 138/78, her pulse is 84, and her respirations are 24 at rest. Also, she reports a weight gain of about 4 pounds since the beginning of the
Assessment	What do you think is going on?	RN: ""As you know, Mrs. Smith has had problems with CHF in the past, and it appears she is moving toward an exacerbation of her heart failure. When prompted, Mrs. Smith admitted to having a can of soup yesterday for lunch and her son brought her some fast food for dinner, a burger and fries, which she says she ate most of. It seems her increased salt intake over the past few days is putting her into a
Recommendation	What action do you propose?	RN: "Dr. Jones, since Mrs. Smith already has 40 mg of furosemide in the home, do you think we should have her take an extra dose for the next 2 days and see if it helps bring down the swelling and weight? We could have a nurse visit again after this increased dose is completed. I am also recommending to her to "lay off" the fast foods and canned soups, and to elevate her legs as often as possible for now."

ETHICS IN HOME CARE

Ethics refers to standards of right and wrong that should guide people's actions. Professional Home Health Care has designed its policies and procedures around respecting client rights and providing care ethically. While delivering care, you must strive to:

- Keep clear boundaries and not get involved in clients' personal lives
- Honestly and accurately chart your visits, travel time and mileage
- Provide accurate and truthful information to clients to allow them to make informed choices
- Encourage and allow the client and family to participate with decision about care and service
- Behave in a manner that conveys respect
- Protect client privacy during care and hold health information in confidence
- Listen to concerns and complaints and work to resolve them
- Report changes in client circumstances that influence care
- Report any abuse or neglect of clients
- Report to your supervisor any client care situations that are in conflict with your cultural values or religious beliefs
- Comply with state and federal regulations

There are not always clear cut answers. When you are faced with an ethical dilemma, a good question to ask yourself is, "Will the course of action honor the patient's rights?" Be sure to consult with your supervisor for guidance if you find yourself in the middle of a tough ethical dilemma concerning your work of a client.

Advance Directives 5 Wishes

Aging With Dignity is a national non-profit organization. Its mission is to protect the human dignity of the aging population and to promote better care for those near the end-of-life. The founder Jim Towey developed Five Wishes, a living will that helps people plan for and receive the care they want if they become seriously ill.

Users of Five Wishes can complete the form in hard copy or online. The online version allows users to save the form, print a copy for their records and even transmit it electronically. More than 18 million people have completed Five Wishes, and it has been distributed by more than 35,000 organizations.

The Five Wishes

Wishes 1 and 2 are both legal documents. Once signed, they meet the legal requirements for an advance directive in the states listed below. Wishes 3, 4, and 5 are unique to Five Wishes, in that they address matters of comfort care, spirituality, forgiveness, and final wishes.

Wish 1: The Person I Want to Make Care Decisions for Me When I Can't

This section is an assignment of a health care agent (also called proxy, surrogate, representative, or health care power of attorney). This person makes medical decisions on your behalf if you are unable to speak for yourself.

Wish 2: The Kind of Medical Treatment I Want or Don't Want

This section is a living will - a definition of what life support treatment means to you, and when you would and would not want it.

Wish 3: How Comfortable I Want to Be

This section addresses matters of comfort care—what type of pain management you would like, [i.e. I do not want to be in pain] and bathing instructions, and whether you would like to know about options for [i.e. I want to die at home if possible] care, among others.

Wish 4: How I Want People to Treat Me

This section speaks to personal matters, such as whether you would like to be at home, whether you would like someone to pray at your bedside, among others. An example – "Prayers are to be done by Anthony Allen. I would like to remain at home for the duration of my final hours."

Wish 5: What I Want My Loved Ones to Know

This section deals with matters of forgiveness, how you wish to be remembered, and final wishes. For example, "My children were my life, the good times as well as the bad. Then along came grandchildren and I had to work, then along came great grandchildren which I had more babysitting to do. It was all worth living for."

More information on 5 Wishes can be found at www.agingwithdignity.org.

OSHA Regulations

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) is a federal agency created in 1970. OSHA's mission is to assure the safety and health of America's employees by setting and enforcing standards; providing training, outreach, and education; establishing partnerships; and encouraging continual improvement in workplace safety and health. OSHA has thousands of regulations concerning workplace safety for all types of industries. OSHA regulations are developed by an Advisory Committee and based upon research by the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health.

The Bloodborne Pathogens Standard was developed to protect health care workers. The standard requires employers to:

- Establish an exposure control plan and update it annually
- Implement the use of universal precautions
- Identify and use engineering controls (sharps disposal containers, needleless systems)
- Identify and use work practice controls (appropriate methods for handling of specimens, contaminated sharps, laundry, cleaning)
- Provide personal protective equipment (PPE) such as gloves, gowns, and masks
- Offer Hepatitis B vaccinations to all workers with potential exposure
- Provide post-exposure evaluation and follow-up
- Use labels and signs to communicate hazards
- Provide information and training to workers
- Maintain worker medical and training records

PHHC must also follow other OSHA standards to ensure our office buildings are safe and that hazardous materials are labeled, stored and used correctly. PHHC takes workplace safety seriously. We want to keep our employees safe, healthy and productive. If you have any questions or concerns about safety on the job, please speak to your supervisor.

Introducing Penny Abdalla

Penny Abdalla, Billing Support Clerk, has been with PHHC since March, 2014 and is a true native of Colorado. She enjoys the flexibility of the ADR process (billing for our clients who are eligible for both Medicare and Medicaid) and the organizational nature of the process. Her biggest challenge is having the patience during the few parts of the process that are out of her control. Penny is a lifelong bookworm and loves to read. Her first love is Sci-fi, followed by mystery/suspense and cookbooks. She will read just about anything put in front of her, even cereal boxes! Before coming to PHHC, she worked for many years in a variety of bookstores. Her husband is from Egypt where they vacation as often as possible. She also has a 3 1/2 year old son and a very old cantankerous cat.

Thank you Penny for all you do for PHHC!

BOULDER

Employee of the Month JUSTINA SUNDERMAN

Justina Sunderman has been a wonderful addition to the Boulder PHHC family. She has been a delight to work with, has great communications skills, is caring, pays attention to detail, her clients adore her and she puts a smile on their face when she enters the door. Justina enjoys spending time with her family and loves the outdoors. We are so thankful to have Justina on our team.

Thank you for all your caring and hard work!

LONGMONT

Employee of the Month JASON WINSLOW

The Longmont branch is proud to nominate Jason Winslow, DPT, as our employee of the month for October. Hired in 2011, Jason is our sole full time physical therapist and therefore carries a tremendous load. We want to give him many kudos for finding a balance between client care, supervising his PTA, and on-time charting. Jason is appreciated in the field for both his expertise and enthusiasm – especially when it comes to new joints! His clients simply adore him. In his spare time, Jason enjoys home improvement projects with his wife in their Loveland home.

Thank you Jason for being a part of our team!

PUEBLO

Employee of the Month

LACY VILES

Lacey has been promoted numerous times; from PCP, to Receptionist, to Service Coordinator and most recently to Personal Care Coordinator. That's because she is a hard worker and excels in many areas. We have enjoyed Lacey's ability to plan creative events; such as memorably decorating each of our offices for our birthdays. Above all, our workers and clients alike find her to be compassionate and flexible. Even though she is tough where it counts, she is fair and caring.

We're so blessed to have you as part of our team, Lacey!
